The McCloud Arm of Shasta Lake

Welcome to the Shasta Unit

The Shasta Unit is one of three units that comprise the Whiskeytown-Shasta-Trinity National Recreation Area. It was established by Congress in 1965. These areas were recognized for their unique and varied recreation potential.

Shasta Lake forms the core of the Shasta Unit and offers recreationists a variety of outdoor activities including: boating, wildlife viewing, water-skiing, swimming, fishing, camping, picnicking, hiking, hunting, wildlife viewing and mountain biking.

The Shasta and Trinity Units are located in the Shasta-Trinity National Forest and are administered by the USDA Forest Service. Whiskeytown Lake is administered by the National Park Service.

More than meets the eye

Shasta Lake, "Keystone" of the Central Valley Project, is the largest human made reservoir in California. When full, its 370 mile shoreline exceeds that of San Francisco Bay. Shasta Dam is the second largest concrete dam in the United States. It was constructed between 1935 and 1945. The lake was filled in 1948.

The construction of Shasta Dam impounded three major north state rivers: the Pit, McCloud, and Sacramento. Referred to as arms, each one retains its own character, environment, history, and recreation opportunities.

People who have never been to Shasta Lake may get the impression that they are seeing several lakes as they pass by on Interstate 5. In a way, there really are more lakes than one.

The rugged country, ragged shoreline, and sheer size of Shasta Lake tends to break the lake into different areas, each with its own opportunities, moods, and settings.

Things to do and see around the lake

Shasta Lake is one of the dominant features in Northern California. Visitors along Interstate 5 can see the lake from Antlers Bridge, O'Brien Rest Area, and the Pit River Bridge. The "Three Shastas" - Shasta Dam, Shasta Lake, and Mt. Shasta, can be seen from the Shasta Dam Vista Point.

Fishing The waters of Shasta Lake provide excellent fishing opportunities. Popular spots are located where the major rivers and streams empty into the lake.

Caving Samwell Cave opens out from a limestone crag overlooking a northern portion of the McCloud Arm of Shasta Lake. It provides a unique and rewarding experience to its visitors. A special visitor permit is required to enter the cave. Entrance to the cave is limited and access is restricted by a locked gate. The key and permit can be obtained at the Shasta Lake Visitor Information Center. It is recommended that you call ahead at 530-275-1589, and check on the availability of the key for entrance to the cave.

Shasta Caverns Tour The caverns began forming over 250 million years ago in the massive limestone of the Gray Rocks visible from Interstate 5. Shasta Caverns are located off the Shasta Caverns / O'Brien exit #695. The caverns are privately owned and tours are offered year round. For schedules and information call (530) 238-2341.

Off Highway Vehicles The Chappie-Shasta Off Highway Vehicle Area is located just below the west side of Shasta Dam and is managed by the Bureau of Land Management. It spans the Trinity Divide between Shasta Dam and Clear Creek to the west and offers hundreds of miles of trails and roads for off road riding, driving, and mountain biking. Shasta Campground and the OHV Staging Area below Shasta Dam provide access to the area and services to riders. For more information, please contact the Bureau of Land Management at 530-224-2100, or on the web at: www.blm.gov/ca/redding.

Hirz Mountain Lookout Perched atop a rocky outcrop high above the McCloud River Arm of Shasta Lake, the historic Hirz Mountain Lookout offers spectacular views in all directions. From an elevation of 3,540 feet, the lookout overlooks the snow-laced peak of Mt. Shasta to the north, Mt. Lassen to the southeast, and the gray limestone exposures of Hirz Mountain itself. The narrow blue-green ribbon of the McCloud River Arm winds past the east side of Hirz Mountain, extending north and south as far as the eye can see.

The Hirz Mountain Lookout was originally a 12 x12 foot square structure that sat flat on the ground. The mountain was a strategic location for detecting fires because it had a direct view into the headwaters of the McCloud river and most of its tributaries. In 1937, the Forest Service and the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) enrollees rebuilt the Hirz Mountain Lookout cab, which was a 14 square foot "BC-3" live in cab, a garage and outhouse. It was one of the last CCC-era lookouts to be built. In 1949, a steel tower was added; constructed of a steel K-brace tower that stands 20 feet above ground level.

The Hirz Mountain Lookout can be reserved from May 1st through October 15th (weather permitting), by contacting the National Recreation Reservation Service at 1-877-444-6777 or on the web at: www.recreation.gov

Swimming Shasta Lake has no developed swimming areas. Many people swim from the shore near their campgrounds or from boats. Visitors are urged to avoid areas with heavy boat traffic. Swimming is prohibited at boat ramps.

Picnicking Picnic facilities are available at Fisherman's Point near Shasta Dam, Bailey Cove, and Dekkas Rock. Day use areas have tables, stoves, trash, and restroom facilities. These areas are closed to overnight camping.

Hiking The trails at Jones Valley, Packers Bay, Bailey Cove, Shasta Dam, and Hirz Bay provide great hiking, trail running, mountain biking, and some horseback riding opportunities. They provide good access to shoreline fishing, secluded creeks, and excellent vistas within an oak and mixed conifer woodland. Since summer days are often hot and dry, be sure to carry water. Better still, hike trails in the late fall, winter, or spring when the weather is cool. Wildflowers are abundant from late January through June. Unless otherwise posted, hiking trails are open all year. Keep an eye out for poison oak... it grows all along these trails.

Boating With 10 commercial marinas on Shasta Lake, there is a wide range of boating opportunities. Houseboats, jet skis, patio boats, canoes, paddle boats, and fishing boats are all available for rent at these marinas.

Launching The Forest Service maintains seven public ramps with parking areas, which provide access to most areas around the lake. Bailey Cove, Centimudi, and Jones Valley Ramps are often congested on summer weekends. Packers Bay, Antlers, and Hirz Bay are recommended alternatives during periods of heavy use. Low water ramps are located at Jones Valley, Sugarloaf, and Centimudi. Additional launching facilities may be available at commercial marinas. Fees are required at all boat launching facilities.

Campground and Camping Information

There is a broad spectrum of camping facilities, ranging from the primitive to the luxurious. At the upper end of the scale, there are 10 marinas and a number of resorts offering rental cabins, motel accommodations, and RV parks and campgrounds with electric hook-ups, swimming pools, and showers. Additional information on Forest Service facilities and services offered at private resorts is available at the Shasta Lake Visitor Information Center or on the web at www.fs.usda.gov/stnf.

For the more independent visitor, the Forest Service offers 13 family campgrounds. Most campgrounds have piped water, some have flush toilets but the majority has vault toilets, tables, and stoves. Showers, electric hookups, and RV dump services are not available at Forest Service campgrounds at Shasta Lake. Reservations are available for many Forest Service campgrounds through the National Recreation Reservation Service (toll free) @ 1-877-444-6777 or on the web at www.recreation.gov.

Boat Access Camps The Forest Service operates four campgrounds on Shasta Lake which are accessible only by boat. Situated in the more remote areas of the lake, these camps offer a unique camping experience away from the headlights and traffic. These camps have tables, stoves, and vault toilet facilities. Users are advised to bring their own water or to boil any surface water for at least five minutes. Please pack out your trash.

Dispersed Area Camping Shasta is one of the few lakes in California where visitors can camp along the shore. Some areas are restricted such as a bald eagle nesting site, but even so there are several hundred miles where shoreline camping is permitted.

To assure the privilege of camping along the shoreline is not lost, help keep the area clean. Pack it in, Pack it out! Please dispose of trash in containers at the boat ramps. Do not leave it at the floating restrooms.

The Beehive, Gregory Beach, Jones Valley Inlet, and Mariners Point areas offer campers vehicle access to the shoreline of Shasta lake. These areas are generally open year round. Chemical toilet facilities, trash services, and fees may be discontinued during the off season.

Fees Most Forest Service campgrounds and all commercial campgrounds charge a fee. There is no fee for boat access campgrounds.

Federal Recreation Lands Pass Senior Passports (age 62 years or older) and Access Passports (for those with permanent disabilities, regardless of age) are a lifetime pass for citizens or permanent residents of the U.S. Coverage includes access to and use of, Bureau of Land Management, Fish & Wildlife Service, National Park Service, Bureau of Reclamation, and USDA - Forest Service sites that charge entrance or standard amenity fees.
