

The year was 1848, a party of Philadelphians came to Woods Creek, named after their leader, the Rev. James Woods. Less than a half mile from our claim Rev. Woods and his party of prospectors erected the first mining camp in Tuolumne County. At Jamestown Gold Panning you can pan for gold where the first miners stood. Walk in the footsteps of Rev. James Woods, James Savage, J.H. Rider, and Charles Bassett. Step back in history and pan for gold in the same conditions these pioneers did.

Our claim gives you the feeling of what these men first saw when they arrived here. Our seasoned instructors will teach you all you want to know about finding gold. We at Jamestown Gold Panning look forward to bringing you into the past and into the rich history that made California the great state it is. Your children will love getting their hands in the dirt and the look on their faces when they find their first piece of gold is priceless. How many people in the world can say they dug and pulled out of the ground a piece of gold that has been in the ground for millions of years? We hope when you leave us you have a better understanding about the history of Woods Creek and why, how, and where gold is formed. We hope to see you at the creek real soon.
