

Walk on the Wild Side

with the Waterton Natural History Association

TUESDAY, July 19th, 8pm at the FALLS THEATRE

“Things with sharp teeth: living with wolves and Grizzlies”

with Kevin van Tighem

Grizzly bears and wolves are among the most difficult of neighbours. They don't see the world the same way we do. Our relationships with them has often been based more on fear and distrust than on respect and coexistence.

Is coexistence even possible? Kevin Van Tighem, author of Bears Without Fear and The Homeward Wolf, will explore some of the ways in which some hunters, ranchers and recreationists are starting to re-think our relationship with large carnivores — and the remarkable possibilities that could result.

Waterton Natural History Association in partnership with Parks Canada

